Regulations for Undergraduate Students Taking Graduate Courses

Approved by the University Affairs Meeting in the 2nd Semester of Academic Year 1995 (May 25, 1996)

Amended by the 2nd Extraordinary Academic Affairs Meeting in the 1st Semester of Academic Year 1998 (December 15, 1998)

Amended by the 2nd University Affairs Meeting in the 1st Semester of Academic Year 1998 (January 22, 1999)

- Article 1 Beginning in their third year, undergraduate students may take graduate courses when necessary.
- Article 2 Unless it is in violation of the regulations governing students' credits for each semester, students may select graduate courses upon approval by the chairpersons of the departments and the graduate institutes, as well as the instructors of the courses.
- Article 3 The total number of graduate credits that an undergraduate student may take shall not exceed 10. The credits may form part of the student's graduation credits; the passing grade for the courses is 60.
- Article 4 Graduate students who have already completed some of the graduate courses during their undergraduate years may ask for exemption from one to two of the courses if these courses are required for their graduate programs. However, the grades that the students have achieved for these courses must be at least 70. Whether the students may be exempted from the courses shall be jointly determined by the chairpersons of the graduate institutes and the instructors of the courses.
- Article 5 Graduate courses open to undergraduate students shall be specifically announced before the process of course registration starts.
- Article 6 Individual departments and institutes may set stricter rules when necessary, but they shall follow the principles of the Regulations.
- Article 7 Any circumstances not described in the Regulations shall be subject to other related laws and regulations.
- Article 8 The Regulations shall be implemented after approval by the Academic Affairs Meeting. The same procedure shall apply to future revisions.
